Kathie Macnab and Jo Ann Lynds are ACBL Certified Bridge Instructors that have been playing bridge for more than 30 years. They play competitively and now spend many hours a week teaching their favourite game.

Kathie owns and operates a successful Bridge Studio in Halifax, NS. The Bridge Studio holds nine sanctioned duplicate bridge games a week as well as three leisure games. Kathie is a certified Master Teacher and holds classes from the absolute beginner to the advancing player. Kathie's latest specialty is in multi-level teaching and hosting games for all levels of play.

Jo Ann owns and operates Jo Ann's Bridge School in Truro, NS, and is responsible for the many new players they now have at the Truro Duplicate Club. Not only does Jo Ann teach the beginners, but she has designed and presented programs on advanced bidding, play and defense.

In 2000, Kathie and Jo Ann added cruising to their bridge adventures. They want to share this incredible experience with new and seasoned bridge players from the Maritimes and beyond! Along with bridge games and daily clinics, they plan on wonderful parties, dinners and a splendid time aboard ship as well as delightful times in ports.

ELEGANCE ON CUNARD LINE'S QUEEN VICTORIA.

The first thing you will be awed by when stepping aboard Queen Victoria is the magnificent three-tiered Grand Lobby, where a pianist or string quartet will be setting an elegant mood. This is only a taste of things to come on this beautiful ship, styled after the classic Cunard ocean liners of lore with luxurious marbles, rich woods and plush carpeting. Throughout the ship, unique venues like the Royal Spa, the Royal Court Theatre with its private boxes and a variety of lively, inviting bars and lounges ensure an exceptional time.

Jan. 20, 2015—Southampton. The United Kingdom's premier passenger ship port, Southampton was home to the great transatlantic liners of yesteryear. The port serves as your gateway to Southern England's magnificent historic sites, national landmarks, charming villages as well as the great metropolis of London. Southampton is the ideal starting or ending point for a memorable voyage.

Jan. 21 and 22, 2015—At Sea.

Jan. 23, 2015—Ponta Delgada (Azores), Portugal. The Azores rise from the ocean depths 900 miles off the Portuguese coast. The largest city in the Azores, Ponta Delgada is located on Sao Miguel, the largest island in the group. This Atlantic stepping-stone also claims to produce the world's finest pineapples, you'll just have to decide that for yourself.

Jan. 24 to Jan. 28, 2015—At Sea.

Jan. 29, 2015—St. Johns, Antigua. Famously dusted with pristine white sands and pulsating to the rhythm of steel drums, Antigua is a real Caribbean treat. From the bustling little port of St. Johns, take an excursion across the rolling countryside to Shirley Heights, a fortress dominating the entry to English Harbour, and historic Nelson's dockyard. Today the warehouses are filled with shops and restaurants, and the sails belong to international yachts.

Jan. 30, 2015—Road Town, Tortola, B.V.I. Dock at Road Town and explore the many beauties Tortola bestows on her fortunate visitors - ivory sands, aquamarine seas and a gracious welcome. Step into the beautiful world of JR O'Neal Botanic Gardens, blooming with orchids, cacti, palms and heliconia, and then indulge on a lunch of succulent Anegada lobster, papaya and sweet potato pudding. If your taste is for unspoilt beaches, Cane Garden Bay's flawless horseshoe of golden sand is for you.

Jan. 31, 2015—At Sea

Feb. 1, 2015—Nassau, Bahamas. Stop at Nassau, the capital of the Bahamas, which brims with colonial architecture and historic buildings. Climb the Queen's Staircase, carved in the sandstone cliffs, explore the tunnels of Fort Charlotte, peer at the colourful blooms in Ardastra Gardens or discover the exotic marine life living in the shimmering turquoise waters.

Feb. 2, 2015—Fort Lauderdale, FL. Your adventure ends in Fort Lauderdale, with yet more incredible beaches, restaurants and shops. This town caters to cruisers and your post-cruise extensions.
